SLEN-CHIN-SKY

International Miracle Pianist

On January 15, 1925, Ruth Slenczynski was born in Sacramento, California. She began to study the piano at three and gave her first public recital when barely four. She went to Paris for further studies, and in 1931 and 1932 she made sensational debuts in Berlin and Paris.

Her innate musicality, astonishing technical equipment and interpretive powers were heralded with incredulous headlines following her Town Hall debut on November 13, 1933. In the three years following her New York triumphs, the astounding young artist trouped the length and breadth of Europe and America, appearing in recitals and as guest soloist with all the major orchestras. Wherever she played, "Little Ruth" won the affections of her public quite as much as her art amazed them.

In 1938 she stepped out of the headlines into complete retirement for play, study, and general development. But last March she made a triumphant return to the concert stage in a sold-out San Francisco Opera House, being hailed by all critics as a mature artist of first rank.

PRESS COMMENTS

". . . Ruth's virtuosity has been steadily growing and last night was more brilliant than ever. Here was astonishing fleetness, clarity and precision, the sonority and force of a mature artist, the special charm and brightness that is Ruth Slenczynski's own . . . ''

-San Francisco Chronicle, 3-8-40.

"... beauty, poise, musicianly phrasing, virtuosity and ferocity-a quality which completely belied the perfectly adorable appearance of this young mistress of the keyboard . . ." -San Francisco News, 3-8-40.

... She hit the piano with a full grown man's impetuous strength. Her rhythm had a rippling force and precision. Her technique was startling no less in its sonorous daring than in its dispatch . . .

-San Francisco Examiner, 3-8-40.

Very noticeable throughout the concert, is the force, brilliance and ferocity with which the young pianist plays, and which was most apparent in the difficult passages of the selections which she chose. She plays with fleetness, clarity and precision, with a technique entirely her own . . .

-Reno Gazette, 9-15-44.

... Now at the age of nineteen, Miss Slenczynski, a little mature artist, plays with a force, brilliance and authority, which are a contradiction to her diminutive physical proportions. She has developed and perfected a technique of her own which is daring and arresting and matched by her fine interpretive -Reno Journal, 9-15-44. ability . . ."

'Seldom does one witness so thrilling a comeback as that which Ruth Slenczynski staged at the Curran Theater yesterday afternoon. For those who had watched her career from her infant prodigy days to the present, the concert had emotional values scarcely less poignant than its musical ones . . . Rarely does one who has achieved fame as a miraculous juvenile musician develop into an artist of such magnitude-at least not at the age of nineteen.

"All of the outstanding assets of the little Ruth have been retained and developed. She still has that extraordinary power, ferocity and technical dexterity. She still demands more brilliance and more powerful sonorities than her instrument -San Francisco News, 9-25-44.
